Are you keen to be part of the Custard Apples Australia community, which is a not-for-profit, member-owned organisation? Acquiring an associate membership with Custard Apples Australia provides funds to invest in our industry and programs, including government liaison.

Eligibility and requirements

Under Custard Apples Australia Constitution:

- An associate member is a person that is not a statutory levy paying grower, but has interests in the custard apple industry. An associate member has no voting rights. So, if you grow custard apples and pay levies, you shall be eligible for ordinary membership (termed Grower Membership on the website), not Associate Membership.
- Ongoing Associate Memberships are for one (1) calendar year. New Associate Memberships are also for one (1) year, but the 12 months membership commences at the time of payment. Membership is applied for online.
- If any personal membership information requires updating, it is the associates' responsibility to advise the Association.
- Becoming a member not only means we will support you as much as possible, but that we expect the same in return, and that you will act in a manner that furthers the objectives of Custard Apples Australia.
- If you conduct yourself in a way which is unbecoming of a Custard Apples Australia member, or which is injurious to the character of the Custard Apple Association, your membership may be terminated. First, we will give you written notice and give a full and fair opportunity to present your case, after which a decision will be made by the Management Committee.
- If you would like to read the full Constitution to understand your rights as a Custard Apples Australia member, you can download the document on the website.
